Lesson 5: Did you get all that?

So by now we've gone over and practiced a variety of situations you may encounter during your first few weeks abroad. Are you ready for action? In this class, we'll do a quiz to see how much you've retained from the previous four lessons and review any points that you may still need to work on.

We'll give you feedback on your progress thus far and you too will have the opportunity to provide feedback, discuss the next set of lessons and make special requests for tailor-made classes, at no extra cost to you.
